Mozilla Public License 2.0 Terms

Core Rights and Permissions

The MPL-2.0 grants users comprehensive rights including:

Right	Description	Reference
Use	Right to use the software for any purpose	LICENSE 94-99
Modify	Right to create modifications and derivative works	LICENSE 94-99

Right	Description	Reference
Distribute	Right to distribute original and modified versions	LICENSE 94-99
Patent Grant	Protection under contributor patent claims	LICENSE 100-102

Distribution Requirements

When distributing the software, the following obligations apply:

- Source Code Form: Must be distributed under MPL-2.0 terms
- Executable Form: May be distributed under different terms with restrictions
- License Notices: Cannot be removed or altered
- Patent Claims: Limited scope of patent protection

Transparency Requirements

Anti-Obfuscation Provisions

The license explicitly prohibits:

- Concealing open source nature: Cannot hide that software is open source
- Removing attribution: Cannot obscure project origins
- Misrepresentation: Cannot claim closed-source status

Compliance Guidelines

For Developers and Contributors

When contributing to or modifying MKTY:

1. Maintain license headers: Keep existing license notices intact
2. Document changes: Clearly mark modifications in source files
3. Provide source access: Ensure modified versions remain accessible
4. Follow attribution: Include required attribution in all distributions

For Distributors

When redistributing MKTY software:

1. Include complete license: Distribute full LICENSE file
2. Maintain notices: Preserve all copyright and license notices
3. Provide attribution: Follow multilingual attribution requirements
4. Source availability: Ensure source code remains accessible

For End Users

When using MKTY in products or services:

1. Check distribution: Determine if your use constitutes distribution
2. Include attribution: Add required attribution to documentation/about pages
3. Language compliance: Meet multilingual requirements if applicable
4. Transparency: Do not conceal open source nature

Enforcement and Violations

License Termination

The license automatically terminates if terms are violated, but provides remediation:

- Automatic termination: Rights terminate upon non-compliance
- Cure period: 30-60 days to remedy violations after notice
- Reinstatement: Rights can be restored upon compliance
